£1,250 windfall will help autistic children

Winners of Community Drive chosen by the public

By EMMA CRUCES

The votes of more than 2,000 people have brought a Blackburn charity £1,250 to help autistic children.

The Blackburn with Darwen branch of the National Autistic Society has been presented with the money as winners of the Community Drive launched by Vantage Toyota and the Blackburn Citizen to recognise the work of charities and community groups in the area.

Two other organisations, the ALLTogether Club, a sport and social club for children with disabilities, and Age Concern Blackburn share £750 as runners-up.

The money will help set up a free holiday programme for children, and run an electric blanket testing day for older people. The winners will use their prize to fund group activities, including regular meetings and play sessions for autistic children, and the branch will now be able to hold a Christmas party for all members.

Vantage marketing manager Louise Mcloughlin said: "I am very pleased to be announcing the final winners of the Community Drive and congratulations to the National Autistic Society in Blackburn for winning the public vote.

"The competition has been a big success and has rewarded good causes across the county, and hopefully raised awareness of some of the good work being carried out in our communities.

"It was a difficult job to pick the winners from so many worthy causes, and we we're very glad it was members of the public that had the final say."

CHEQUE JOY: National Autistic Society branch officer June Halstead receives the cheque from Blackburn Vantage Toyota Centre principal Nick Grady, surrounded by Vantage staff, and representatives from the three nominated charities

Award to honour unsung heroes

By CATHERINE PYE

A good citizen award is set to be launched in Darwen to recognise the town's unsung heroes.

Town council member John East has held talks with Darwen Rotary Club and co-ordinators of the Stand Out In Darwen scheme at Darwen Aldridge Community Academy about an awards ceremony.

Coun East said: "We want to do something for the unsung heroes and volunteers who provide a service for the town.

"We don't want someone like a councillor, or a teacher, nominated. We want ordinary people who do outstanding things on a daily basis, like clear the leaves and litter from their streets.

ORDINARY PEOPLE: Coun John East

"We need to give people like this the credit they deserve. It's not all about the trophy, but about the recognition. As a community we should be celebrating what is good about our communities."

He added: "At the moment the plans are very embryonic and there's nothing set in stone, but it's something all parties are keen to do."

It is thought the award would be open to residents of all ages, and a ceremony will be held annually.

The prize for winners is likely to be a glass trophy and there are no plans for a cash prize, or charity grant.

Coun East said an inspiration for the award scheme was Second World War veteran Richard Westhead who gets up daily at 5am to make sure the streets surrounding his home are swept clean and free from litter.

On his 90th birthday in April, neighbours in Rydal Avenue, Clement Street, Belgrave Road, Inverness Road, and Almond Street, gathered at his home with surprise gifts.

Extra hospital shuttle buses

By NEIL DOCKING

Extra shuttle buses are running between Royal Blackburn, Burnley General and Pendle Community Hospitals from this week.

NHS bosses caused outrage in September when they decided to cut back the number of free buses.

At peak times patients, visitors and staff typically wait half-an-hour between buses, but at other times they have to wait up to an hour-and-a-quarter.

East Lancashire Hospitals NHS Trust said it had now introduced eight additional journeys in response to 'service user feedback'.

It said the latest timetable changes were designed to assist visiting times and shift changeovers for staff.

Three extra journeys will run from Blackburn, at 7.45am, 1.45pm and 8.45pm, and from Burnley at 1.45pm, 6.30pm and 8.45pm, Monday to Friday. An extra 1.45pm service will run from each site at the weekend.

The pick-up and drop off location has also changed in Blackburn.

People will now catch the bus from stand A at the hospital's main entrance, which has a covered shelter.

Martin Morgan, the trust's director of estates and facilities, said: "We want to ensure that patients, visitors and staff receive a quality service and these latest changes are a direct response to user feedback.

"We will continue to monitor the service to make sure it matches the demands of the users."

Health chiefs said they took the original decision in September because the £500,000 service was under-used at 'off-peak' times and only transporting 'small numbers of passengers'.

The shuttle bus was first introduced in 2007, ahead of the decision to close Burnley A&E and transfer blue light services to Royal Blackburn Hospital in November that year.

The new timetable is on the trust's website at www.elht.nhs.uk

MONEY-SPINNER: Fitness enthusiast Harry in his cycling gear

By NEIL DOCKING

A 69-year-old man has helped boost the Raise the Roof kitty by cycling non-stop for 12 hours.

Harry Haseley, of Ash Lane, Great Harwood, completed the extraordinary feat from 6.30am to 6.30pm during a time trial competition in Chester.

The dad-of-two did not leave the cycle at any point in the effort, even for a toilet break.

He was not originally taking part in the race for charity, but decided to support our sister newspaper the Lancashire Telegraph's campaign after talking to Nadene Catterall, landlady at the Dog and Otter, in Great Harwood.

Harry, who finished second in the competition, decided to relax after the event with a drink at the pub, in Cliffe Lane.

He said: "They were having a quiz night and Dee the landlady said to me 'how many miles did you do?' She said 'keep quiet and I'll ask everybody to guess in the quiz'.

"Everybody put some money in and we raised £110. The answer was 221 miles."

The former welding engineer has already run 129 marathons, raising thousands for charity. He said: "I think you could say I'm a fitness enthusiastic. I was still running at 60 and then I joined the North Lancashire Cycling Club.

"For this event I loaded up on carbohydrates before doing it. My friend James Potter passed me energy drinks and energy bars which kept me going."

The Raise the Roof appeal aims to raise £125,000 to build a new roof over the inpatients unit at East Lancashire Hospice.

It now stands at £99,000, in no small part thanks to a £4,000 donation from the Dog and Otter earlier this summer, after the pub hosted a fundraising lunch.

Grit for surgeries

Up to six bags of free grit will be delivered to doctors' surgeries in Hyndburn to help them prepare for the winter. Coun Munsif Dad, cabinet member for environmental issues, said: "We want to make sure that patients can get access to these services."

Hip hop classes for kids

Children's hip hop classes take place in the ballroom in Accrington Town Hall every Monday, from 5pm to 6pm.

The classes are suitable for anyone aged five years upwards.

Admission to the classes is £2.

Locals spruce up woodland

By CATHERINE PYE

A historic recreational area has been transformed by an army of volunteers.

Residents of Roe Lee, Blackburn, put in a hard shift to spruce up Brownhill Plantation, a woodland just off Whalley New Road.

The group used tools and equipment supplied by Blackburn with Darwen Council to clear undergrowth that had covered steps and paving.

Resident Maurice Ffelan, who co-ordinated the activities, said: "The Brownhill Plantation was a popular spot for promenading and relaxing in the early years of the last century, but it has suffered from neglect in recent years, resulting in paths becoming overgrown and often impassable.

"It is our long-term aim to return it to its former glory and the council scheme gave us the chance to make a good start. We are also interested in the history of the Plantation and would welcome any information and memories, especially photographs from any date."

Council leader Kate Hollern said: "Residents tell us that clean streets and public open spaces are important to them, but they have also told us that they want to play a part in helping to tackle the problems.

"That is why, despite the tough economic times, we have bought equipment for residents to use free of charge to clean up their area."

You can contact Maurice on 01254 248568.

Resurfaced road is dug up again

By CATHERINE PYE

A road is being dug up days after being relaid because the wrong material was used.

For four days, Capita workers resurfaced a 500-metre section of Queen Victoria Street, Mill Hill, Blackburn, only to find they had been supplied with slate chippings, instead of granite chippings.

Coun Dave Harling, Blackburn with Darwen Council's executive member for regeneration, said: "Queen Victoria Street has been treated with the pre-coated chippings which are rolled into the new hot rolled asphalt surface course. The chippings had become contaminated with other, softer stone which failed on laying."

Queen Victoria Street resident Eddie Duxbury said: "I spoke to the foreman and he said that because they can't take the individual stone chippings out, the whole lot has to be redone. When they started on all this there was traffic mayhem, and we face a repeat of all that.

"What a mess and what a waste of money! Even though they said that the quarry sent the wrong material, someone at Capita should be doing controls."

Coun Harling added: "The contractor has completed the surfacing in order to leave the site in a safe state before he returns this week to remove the surface course and replace it and then roll in new chippings.

"The contractor will return to site on Tuesday, or Wednesday. The work is due to be finished within the planned timescale of two weeks."

Last week council chiefs ordered the demolition of a giant planter just hours after it was completed in King Street – because it did not 'match' the area.

The cost of the work has not been revealed.

Engaged in TV sitcom

As series two of acclaimed sitcom PhoneShop returns to E4 tomorrow (Thursday), writer and actor Martin Trenaman, from London, who plays Lance, chats about the series. He also starred in hit sitcom-turned-blockbuster The Inbetweeners.

60 SECONDS WITH ... MARTIN TRENAMAN

WHAT'S BEEN YOUR FAVOURITE PROJECT OVER THE YEARS AND WHY?

Probably the proudest and the best one is PhoneShop that I'm doing at the moment It's the way that Phil Bowker, who writes, produces, and directs, works with writers and performers like me who are able to improv stuff before we shoot. He films all that, cherry picks the best stuff and it gets fed into the script, so that we have an input to the dialogue and sometimes to little plot bits. If he likes it, he'll shoot it and make it work.

WHAT CAN WE EXPECT FROM THE NEW SERIES OF PHONESHOP?

It's a little bit under wraps at the moment. I can say that, although it is firmly based in the PhoneShop on the high street, it does go out of the shop a little bit more this series than it did in the last series.

DO GREAT SITCOMS USUALLY NEED A COUPLE OF SERIES TO SETTLE DOWN?

I couldn't agree more. People have to get to know those characters. I know on Twitter some people were saying at the start, 'I don't really get it', but by episode three or four they said 'I wasn't sure about this show and now I get it'. With PhoneShop if you strip everything away, it's a reasonably traditional British sitcom. It's not a million miles away from a family, with Lance being the dad and the rest are sort of the unruly children.

Dry homes feel warmer

Holland Damp Proofing dries out your home and is guaranteed to work

Your damp proofing questions answered

Holland Damp Proofing managing director Evert De Graaf answers your questions about damp and his unique system to treat it.

Holland Damp Proofing

What does damp look and feel like?
The tell-tale signs of damp are fungus and mould growth on walls, peeling wallpaper, rotting carpets and woodwork. Autumn weather will add to this, leaving your property feeling colder and probably costing you more to run. Addressing your damp problems now will lead to drier walls, which in turn should help lower your energy bills.

How does your system work?
The system involves a series of small damp-regulating bricks which fit into specially prepared niches in the external walls of your home, close to the ground, at regular intervals. These bricks are installed from the outside by our trained engineers. Once in place, they allow air to flow into the brick chambers and out again – circulating airflow through the inside of the wall which evaporates the moisture, drying out the wall and allowing it to breathe.

What properties is it suitable for?
Virtually all types – it is suitable for use on cavity, solid and brick walls. It is particularly good for stone walls. It can also be used on most properties of any shape and size, from mansions to maisonettes – we've even installed our system in a windmill!

Is it a big job to have it installed?
No, because we work from the outside, the inside of your house won't be turned into a building site and with our trained engineers doing the installation, it usually only takes one to two days.

Why do you say it is eco-friendly?
It uses airflow to dry out walls rather than toxic chemicals, which are used in 'traditional' damp proofing systems. It is also a permanent solution, guaranteed for 20 years, so it won't need replacing.

What are the advantages of using this system over more traditional chemical damp proofing?
Our system has the advantage of being installed from the outside, so there is no mess inside and no costly redecorating afterwards.

No mess, no problem

Arthur Kendall

ARTHUR KENDALL, from Merseyside, wasn't prepared to put up with mess and disruption when he looked into having a damp proof course fitted. So he contacted Holland Damp Proofing, whose method of installation is mess-free, eco-friendly and is guaranteed for 20 years. Within a day the company's engineers had fitted a damp proof course. The work took place 10 years ago and the damp hasn't returned. "It's not a problem anymore," says great-grandfather Arthur, 82. "I must have been one of the first of Holland's customers and they did a great job. They got rid of my damp problem and it didn't come back. That's a good enough recommendation for me."

Happy to be jester

MASTER OF MIRTH: Ken Dodd

To get an interview with veteran comedian Ken Dodd is like being given a ticket to your own personal show.

Sure you can start asking what seem to be reasonably informed and intelligent questions but, within a few seconds, you are left laughing out loud as the master of mirth sets off on his surreal progress through your alloted time.

"You know what young man," he says as he answers the phone. "It's such a lovely day I can see the blooms on the black pudding bushes over there in Blackburn. I'm in such a good mood I feel like putting a cucumber through the vicar's letter box and shouting 'watch out, the Martians have landed'."

Doddy is a showbiz legend. Now 83, he's been performing for nearly 57 years. His shows are marathons, often lasting up to four hours and beyond, and as he prepares to play Blackburn and Darwen Comedy Festival this Saturday he shows no signs of slowing down. "I have always been, and always will be, stagestruck," he said. "I live for my shows. That's what keeps me going."

Doddy is a comedian held in awe by most comedy performers. His show sees him rattling off joke after joke and he admits that in all his years he has never once done the same show. "How can I?" he asks. "Every member of every audience is different. Every reaction you get in every venue is different. I react to what's around me, to how people respond to me. What I do is no different from the jesters of old," he said. "A jester's role is to bring laughter into people's lives. I'm there to help them exercise their chuckle muscles."
